As far as I understand DataView, it should be the best solution, but I get the same error. A: I had the same problem. It was because the "UnitLoad" method was returning "item(s) not found" instead of the expected columns. In the DataSet.Refresh() method of my DataView I added DataRowCollection rowCol = UnitLoad.GetRowCollection(); for (int x = 0; x Grace VanderWaal Reveals Her Biggest Singing Challenge Grace VanderWaal's debut album Just the Beginning has received mostly positive reviews. She also has a winner in the Teen Choice Awards, where she picked up the Choice Music: Female Artist award. The "I Don't Know My Name" singer also recently appeared on Late Show with David Letterman and gave David a surprise performance. "That was something that, of course, is really cool, but it was actually just me performing for the fans. It was on a Saturday night. It was like, 'Guys, I'm going to do a show.' I had no idea what to expect. I was nervous. I was like, 'Oh, my 82157476af
